As a third-year law student with a keen eye for research and a passion for advocacy. Proficient in conducting comprehensive legal research. My dedication to honing oral advocacy skills is evidenced through active participation in moot court competitions. Additionally, I have delved into the intricacies of Civil Procedure Code (CPC) during my third semester and mastered the principles of Law of Crimes in my fourth semester, further enhancing my understanding of procedural and substantive aspects of law along with that also had DPC in our fourth semester. I am eager expand my knowledge and gain hands-on experience in fashion law, focusing on intellectual property, brand protection, and industry-specific regulations.
